

FIRST SERGEANT JIMMY L. McAULEY

Senior Army Instructor | Bulldog Battalion

First Sergeant Jimmy L. McAuley is a retired U.S. Army First Sergeant and the Senior Army Instructor for the Zephyrhills High School Bulldog Battalion. For more than two decades, he has dedicated himself to developing young people into confident, disciplined, and responsible leaders. Known to his cadets as “Top,” he believes in accountability, teamwork, physical fitness, and always giving your best. Outside of school, he enjoys working out, walking, traveling, spending time at the beach, and cheering for the Pittsburgh Steelers. As he prepares for retirement, First Sergeant McAuley is proud of the many cadets he has mentored and the lasting legacy of leadership he leaves at Zephyrhills High School.

“Developing tomorrow’s leaders, one cadet at a time.”
